

Abstract of the Disclosure

A monitoring system is disclosed for the detection of obstacles and persons on escalators and/or moving walkways having at least one video camera, whereby the monitoring system acquires stereoscopic images. The images are processed in a manner which distinguishes the obstacles and persons from the escalator or walkway. A series of camera pairs may provide monitoring of the full extent of the escalator or walkway.

10